President Talks With Dulles, No Decision Yet

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower today headed back to Washington where he will get a new report on the condition of Secretary of State Dulles.

Interrupting his vacation for about 24 hours to keep a series of engagements in the capitol, Eisenhower took off aboard his private plane, Columbine III, at 9:37 a.m. EST. The flight takes about one hour and 45 minutes.

Eisenhower was accompanied by his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, who told newsmen "I haven't anything to say" on whether Eisenhower had received any new information regarding the ailing Dulles.

The President originally had planned to leave about midday. Departure was advanced about 2½ hours when the temperature tumbled to the low 40s and eliminated plans for a morning round of golf.

The President plans to return to Augusta Tuesday afternoon for a stay of another week or so.

Virginia's Governor Under Heavy Guard

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Police today maintained an unprecedented security vigil about Virginia's governor after a reported attempt on his life.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. was shot at Friday, officers said, as he walked near the executive mansion en route to the Capitol.

Capitol police doubled their guard at the mansion. State and Richmond city police promised closer surveillance of the Capitol grounds.

"I hate to see more security around here, but I guess I should take the advice of the police authorities," Almond said.

The Virginia governor recently has been the target of abuse and threats from anonymous telephone callers and letter writers who accuse him of selling out in the school segregation issue.

Almond, once an advocate of massive resistance to school integration, recently has taken a more moderate stand.

Alford Says Probe Will Be Welcome

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.) reiterated today that he would welcome "a fair and unbiased" investigation into his election victory last fall over former Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.).

Alford made his comment in the light of a call by Hays last week for a House committee investigation into charges of vote frauds in the election.

"As I have said many times previously," Alford said, "I welcome a fair and unbiased investigation which will reveal the true picture.

"I know I was properly and duly elected in the finest tradition of a Democratic election."

Hays, a civil rights moderate and a veteran of 16 years in the house, was defeated last November by Alford, who entered the contest as a write-in candidate a week before the election.

Hays did not contest the election. Subsequently John F. Wells of Little Rock told a special House committee that there were irregularities in the election.

The entire matter has been referred to the house Administration Committee which has scheduled a meeting Wednesday to consider what it will do.

Hays, in calling for an investigation of vote fraud charges, reiterated that he is not contesting the election, said he was motivated by concern over integrity of the ballot.

He has notified Chairman Omar Burleson (D-Tex) of the House Administration Committee that he would testify if an investigation were ordered.

Arkansas' Violent Death Toll

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A 17-year-old boy died in a house fire near Gravette yesterday, raising Arkansas' toll of violent deaths to 11 during the week that ended at midnight Sunday.

Dead is Grover M. Shield, 17, who was visiting the farm home of his father, David M. Shield.

The boy, who lived at Kansas City with his mother, Mrs. Clara Cramer, was alone in the house when the fire broke out.

Victor Case of Gravette said he, young Shield and another boy were riding around in the third youth's automobile Saturday night. Case and Shield got out at the Shield house and built a fire in a wood stove. The older Shield was away on a hauling trip.

Case told Sheriff James Black he left the Shield house about 1 a.m. Sunday and there was no sign of anything wrong.

Soon after, the Gravette Fire Department got a report that the Shield house was afire. Firemen arrived too late to save the structure.

Funeral services will be held at Gravette tomorrow and burial will be there.

Of the 10 other persons killed in accidents during the week, seven died as a result of traffic mishaps, one was shot atally, one died in an industrial accident and one was accidentally electrocuted.

Two men died of Saturday injuries from earlier automobile accidents.

Harry Burrell, 53, of Huntsville, died in a Huntsville hospital after he was injured when his car went out of control and wrecked on State Highway 23, about 13 miles south of Huntsville, State police reported.

Frank S. Copeland, 39, of North Little Rock, died in a Conway hospital after his automobile struck an embankment and overturned on State Highway 5, near Vilonia. Deputy Sheriff Joe Martin said Copeland apparently lost control of the vehicle.

A Lewisville man, identified as T. Thomas, 55, a taxi driver, was struck and killed by a car late Saturday night as he walked along U.S. Highway 82 near Lewisville. State Trooper Ben Calvin quoted the driver of the car, Jerry Tatum, 23, of near Stamps, as saying fog and headlights of oncoming cars blinded him and he didn't see Thomas.

Villagers Plan to Fight Airlines

LONDON (AP) —The villagers of Longford plan a nighttime telephone campaign to keep the jet age from disturbing their sleep.

They are going to waken government and airlines officials they believe responsible for approving the 1:30 a.m. departure of one of Pan American World Airways' Boeing 707 jets from London airport. The daily flight to New York begins April 27.

The jet normally will pass right over the village of 3,084 persons.

The Longford sleepers are particularly angry because the flight's departure was switched from day to night so the jet could land during daylight hours in New York.

Prince Losing His Math Reputation

The 10-year-old heir to the British throne headed his class in math and geography last term at Cheam School.

"Charles has always been good at geography but math was never his strong point, to put it mildly," said a member of the school staff.

The term report is being sent to Queen Elizabeth II at Windsor Castle, where Charles is recovering from the chicken pox.

Testimony in Traffic Death Is Ruled Out

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Testimony about mechanical recording of truck speeds and stops in a traffic death case was ruled out by the Arkansas Supreme Court today.

The divided decision won by Mrs. Edna Jean Bell, a Faulkner County widow, a new trial in her damage suit against the Kroger Co. and Winfrey Sory.

Mrs. Bell's husband, Richard Neil Bell, was killed when his automobile collided with a 5-ton Kroger truck, driven by Sory, on Nov. 23, 1951. A Faulkner Circuit Court trial jury awarded $700 to Bell's estate but refused judgment in favor of Mrs. Bell and her children. She appealed to the Supreme Court, which today sent her claim back for retrial.

The court majority said that testimony relating to records made by the Tactograph, an instrument on the truck, should not have been allowed at the trial. The Tactograph recorded speeds and time and lengths of stops.

The majority said there was no sufficient proof of accuracy of the device. It pointed out that the machine showed no stops between 4:36 p.m. and 7 p.m. the day of the accident, but that Sory testified to three stops during that period. Furthermore, the opinion said, the question of speed was not at issue in Mrs. Bell's allegations of negligence on the part of Sory and his employer.

The opinion was written by Associate Justice Paul Ward. Associate Justices J. S. Holt and Ed F. McFaddin dissented.

Negro Charged With Disturbing Peace

A Hope Negro, listed as Glen Edwards, was charged with disturbing the peace here last night following a disturbance on a bus. The driver called Hope Police from Prescott and asked that they meet the bus and arrest Edwards as he had been causing a disturbance for some time. City Police said Edwards was released on bond last night.

Swarm of Bees Settle on a Fire Station

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A huge swarm of wandering bees settled on the front door of Central Fire Station here yesterday. Firemen employed a familiar foe to get rid of them.

Marcus White and Patil Hicks, two firemen who are bee-keeping enthusiasts drove the estimated 30,000 bees away into a hive — by using smoke.

President to Get Report on Mr. Dulles

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower conferred for 45 minutes today with ailing Secretary of State Dulles. They put off any decision as to Dulles' future official role pending "additional medical observation and treatment."

Eisenhower flew in from Augusta, Ga., this morning and drove immediately to Walter Reed Army Hospital to see the secretary.

Afterwards, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty made the following statements:

"The President met this morning at Walter Reed Hospital with the secretary of state. They of course discussed the secretary's physical condition. They also discussed matters relating to world affairs.

"The secretary of state has returned to Walter Reed for additional medical observation and treatment.

"He is expected to remain at the hospital for some days.

"Pending additional medical evaluation there will be no further statement from the President."

Dulles broke off a recuperative period in Florida to return Sunday to the hospital where he previously had spent a month and a half undegoing radiation and other treatment for a recurrent abdominal cancer.

At the time Dulles went to Florida, there was no indication that he would return to the hospital for additional treatment.

Hagerty told reporters he did not know the nature of this new treatment, or whether surgery or more radiology were involved.

He said those are medical questions to be answered by the doctors.

Discusses Problems of First Offenders

MONTGOMERY, Aa. (AP)—An expert on penal problems says improper handling of first offenders and inadequate probation have given the United States the highest crime rate in the world.

Kenyon Scudder made the observation in an address last night at the opening of a joint meeting of the Southern States Prison Assn. and the Southern States Probation and Parole Conference.

Scudder, who represents the Osborne Assn., a nonprofit penal organization, said one of the reasons for the high crime rate in this country is that too many first offenders are sent to prison.

Most of them are back behind bars within five years after they are discharged, he said.

Scudder blamed poor probation programs to keep young offenders out of prison and inadequate rehabilitation programs to restore them to useful life.

Delegates to the meet represent Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, Louisiana and eight other states.

Property Tax Reduced for KCS Lines

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today reduced the 1957 property tax assessment of the Kansas City Southern Railway Co. by $1,463,000.

The court said the Arkansas Commerce Commission had included plant additions in the assessment figure without allowing proper deduction for depreciation.

The commission fixed the total at $4,331,000. The railroad argued it should have been assessed only $1,440,000.

The Supreme Court rejected several other contentions by which the railroad sought to further reduce the assessment.

These included an allegation that setting of a 20 per cent valuation on its property for assessment purposes was discriminatory.

The railroad said other property in counties in which it operates was assessed at from 14 to 18 per cent of value.

The court acknowledged as it had in an earlier case, that property valuations vary from county to county but said that in some cases it is higher than the legal 20 per cent.

"We do not think the appellant (Kansas City Southern) has shown that the commission was in error or that a basis of 20 percent would result in confiscation," Associate Justice Sam Robinson said in the unanimous opinion.

The decision modified a finding of Pulaski Circuit Court, which had upheld the commission.

Dulles Back in Hospital at Washington

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Foster Dulles, returning unexpectedly from a Florida rest to a hospital room, undergoes intensive new medical checks today in his battle against cancer.

An expected visit from President Eisenhower during the day could bring a decision on how long Dulles remains as secretary of State.

Eisenhower was reported deeply concerned about Dulles' continuing illness. A high Republican official said the President was informed several days ago that Dulles had not responded to treatment as well as had been hoped.

Eisenhower had arranged his 24-hour return to the capital to keep a series of engagements made before he went to Augusta, Ga., for a golfing vacation.

The 71-year-old secretary, a world-renowned figure in diplomatic battles against the Soviet Union for six years, re-entered the hospital Sunday afternoon.

Looking haggard and considerably underweight, Dulles cut short his Florida rest stay to undergo a new head to toe check-up to determine what could be done to arrest the cancer.

Many of his worried aides glumly reported that barring a medical miracle Dulles probably would have to lay aside the foreign policy chores he loves so dearly.

The President was reported still hopeful that Dulles could serve as special adviser, at least, during the Big Four foreign ministers conference on Germany. This is to open in Geneva May 11.

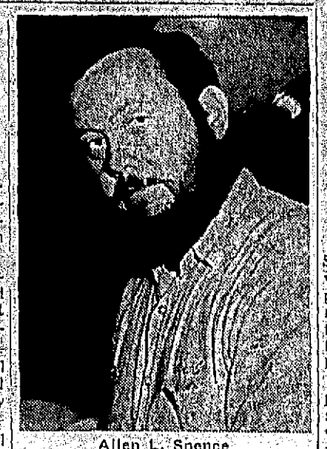

"I feel pretty good," Dulles told newsmen at the airport as he walked slowly down the ramp from the President's plane.

He even managed to joke about the weather, a windy mixture of sleet and rain. In appearance, however, Dulles was a far cry from the rugged 185-pound New Yorker who broke all travel records during his six years as secretary of state.

His complexion was ashen. His gray topcoat hung losely on his frame. Newsmen who have covered his activities for years estimated he had lost 15 to 20 pounds.

One of his top aides said Dulles has not yet submitted a resignation. But, this official thought some sort of "clarifying announcement" might be issued within a few days.

Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter, who joined Vice President Richard M. Nixon in meeting Dulles at the airport, was reported to be Eisenhower's choice as Dulles' successor if Dulles quits.

Body Found and Autopsy Planned

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) —An autopsy has been scheduled to determine the cause of death of an unidentified elderly white man whose body was found near here yesterday.

County Coroner B. G. Hendrix said the man apparently had been dead about three days.

Two youths discovered the body on a bank of the Arkansas River just south of the city limits, police said.

Would End All Nuclear Blasts Near the Earth

By TOM OCHILTREE

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and Britain asked the Soviet Union today to agree to a prompt controlled suspension of nuclear weapons tests on or near the surface of the earth—leaving the problem of other types of blasts for later negotiations.

Informants said the proposal provided for splitting up the test suspension problem. It was advanced as the three-power talks resumed after an Easter recess.

First Soviet reaction was reported to be negative.

Under the new Western plan, agreement would be reached at once on banning surface and atomic nuclear tests — the ones which cause dangerous radioactive fallout.

Such an agreement would not cover very high altitude and underground atomic and hydrogen weapons blasts. Such explosions — difficult to police in any event — could be covered in some subsequent agreement reached after the first problem had been solved.

U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth and British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore proposed dividing the nuclear problem into two parts with the idea of getting quick agreement on the types of tests easiest to detect. The ending of such tests also would avoid any health hazards to the world's population.

The sources pointed out that the United States and Britain would prefer an agreement covering the entire range of tests. But the Western powers recognized that this conference, which began its deliberations on Oct. 31, now was bogged down on East-West differences about controls.

Presumably the limited agreement now suggested as a first step would require less elaborate policing arrangements than a total ban. The Western powers, however, want foolproof controls built into any type of agreement they sign.

Orphanage Film to Be Show Here

The Rev. W. B. Leonard, Field Representative for the Latin American Orphanage of Acapulco, Mexico, will show the outstanding sound and color film "Cargadero", at the Hope Gospel Tabernacle, 321 N. Main Street, Rev. W. C. Land, Pastor, Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

This film entitled "Cargadero," which means "Burden Bearer," was taken entirely in Mexico. The film shows the heroic and sacrificial work of the Latin American Orphanage among Mexico's forgotten children.

Outstanding men of America have acclaimed this film a marvelous combination of beautiful photography, human pathos, and spiritual inspiration, containing a fresh approach to the orphan problem of our neighbor to the south. Brutally true, and beautiful in Mexican countryside scenes.

Wright to Be Buried Near Boyhood Home

SPRING GREEN, Wis. (AP) — Frank Lloyd Wright, an architectural genius who called the world his workshop, was buried Sunday in a secluded country churchyard near his boyhood home.

Wright died Thursday at Phoenix, Ariz., after surgery for removal of an intestinal obstruction. He was 89.

His body was borne to its final resting place in a horse-drawn farm wagon, draped in red velvet and edged with cut flowers.

His widow and a daughter led a procession of more than 50 mourners who followed on foot as the wagon moved down the winding road leading from Wrights hillside home to Unity Chapel, half a mile away.

The Rev. Max Gaebler of the First Unitarian Society in Madison said in eulogy that Wright was "a great man, a great artist, but more than that a beloved husband and father and friend."

Plans Willkie Type Drive for Rockefeller

WASHINGTON (AP)—The same all-out campaigning that landed the 1940 Republican presidential nomination for Wendell L. Willkie apparently is under way for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

Responsible Republicans brought to last week's meeting of the GOP National Committee here reports that supporters of Rockefeller are seeking to enlist businessmen, professional men and other political amateurs as Rockefeller backers.

A GOP national committeeman who has participated in several presidential campaigns, described the tactics as similar to those which helped put Willkie over. He said he has personal knowledge that bankers, lawyers, doctors, insurance men and others with influence in their communities are being urged to line up behind Rockefeller.

The first outward sign of this cropped up recently with the formation of "Californians for Rockefeller." This self-styled group of "political greenhorns," is headed by Charles Lowsadder, Los Angeles businessman.

A state chairman who supports Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the nomination said he knew of similar activities elsewhere in behalf of Rockefeller. He predicted Nixons backers soon will be doing the same kind of campaigning.

It was explained that Rockefeller himself is standing aloof from these activities. He is holding to the line that his only ambition is to make a good chief executive for his state.

It was noticeable, however, that the governor lost no time in moving one of his closest advisors, George L. Hinman, into a seat as Republican national committeeman from New York.

The Rockefeller forces appear fully satisfied that the committee's new chairman Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, will carry out his pledge to remain neutral in any Nixon-Rockefeller contest.

Morton was chosen unanimously to succeed retiring chairman Meade Alcorn at a weekend session in which the committee also voted solidly to hold its 1960 convention in Chicago, the week beginning July 25.

Searches Are on for Three Lost Youths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The hours of anxiety were over today in four homes in different parts of the nation. The parents could smile again. Their lost children had been found.

It was a happy ending to a trying weekend.

All of the children had been missing at least one night, while frantic searches went on. Three of them—in Colorado, Washington and Michigan—were found Sunday. A fourth youngster in Ohio today.

The Strongville, Ohio, boy, Donald L. Lutman Jr., 11, was discovered about a mile and a half from home at a drive-in theater in a concession shanty.

He had disappeared Friday, after his dog died, and was seen only briefly Saturday by a school custodian who encountered him in a basement grieving over his pet, and fearful he would be blamed for its death.

He dropped out of sight then, his whereabouts unknown until a worker discovered him in the shanty this morning, well fed on ice cream and wieners.

Two little boys were missing in rough mountain country in Colorado and Washington, while a tiny girl wandered away from home in Michigan.

Some 150 searchers, aided by two planes and a bloodhound, combed the woods and pastures near St. Joseph, Mich., for three-year-old Virginia Lee Ford before she was found unharmed and asleep in a weed-covered field about a mile from her home.

The girl, wearing a snowsuit, apparently suffered no ill effects from the sub-freezing weather, doctors said.

In the far West, bloodhounds led searchers to five-year-old Brian Brehmeyer as he cuddled a pet beagle in the foothills west of Shelton, Wash.

Brian, one of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brehmeyer, had wandered from home Saturday. He endured 20 hours of wailing and 40-degree temperatures before greeting his rescuers: "I didn't cry."

Woman Rests After Ordeal Aboard Yacht

HARWICH, England (AP) —An American woman passed a fairly comfortable night in the hospital.

Planes, a helicopter and dogs joined the search south of Grand Junction, Colo., for frail Sammy Jennings, 7.

The 65-pound first grader strayed from a family picnic Saturday. He has sight in only one eye, is in poor health and has a speech impediment.

Searchers found him 18 hours later atop a pinnacle of rock in the remote Unaweep Canyon area.

"I prayed to Jesus all night long," the boy murmured. "I was so scared to go to sleep, and I got awful hungry. I just prayed and prayed."

After a yachting ordeal during which her husband was lost overboard in heavy seas, Mary Longyear, 32, had both her collarbones broken. Her mate, David Peter, 32, was lost in the towering seas while trying to mend a split mainsail. A native of New Rochelle, N.Y., he managed a subsidiary of the McCann-Erickson advertising agency in Brussels, Belgium.

Surviving with Mrs. Longyear were William Buell of Newport, R.I., second secretary of the American Embassy in Brussels, and Andrew Kemp, 20, English university student.

The quartet set out Saturday to sail from Holland to the English coast in the 60-foot yawl Rose, in which Longyear hoped to cross the Atlantic later this year.

The trip went normally until the yacht was just off the coast, Buell told newsmen. "The mainsail split and the head of the sail jammed.

"It was while trying to get down to repair it that Peter was thrown overboard. He was hanging on to the gaff trying to bring it down with his weight when he lost his balance.

"We did everything we could to get him, but the mainsail was too heavy for me to manage and we could not make much headway as the yacht would not answer to her helm.

"We had thrown him a ring life-belt and the last we saw of him was when he floated away on the belt in heavy seas.

"His wife did everything she could to help. She is the bravest girl I have ever seen."

A Norwegian whaler came to the aid of the yacht, took her in town and landed the three survivors on the Galloper lightship some 25 miles offshore.

Won't Pay for Excess Patients

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Pulaski County Judge Arch Campbell said today the county will not pay for any patients in excess of its quota at the University Medical Center here when a revised quota law takes effect in June.

He made the statment in commenting on an announcement of new patient policies at the center.

It was announced yesterday that staring Thursday, patients accepted for admission must furnish proof of need and a referral from a private physician.

Campbell said he had been unable to determine what the county's quota would be under the new plan. Under provisions of the quota patient law, if the Medical Center were asked to accept more than Pulaski County's quota of patients it could bill the county or the cities of Little Rock or North Little Rock.

"We have decided not to exceed our quota," Campbell said.

The judge added the new policies would cut the number of patients accepted from Pulaski County but he did not know by how much. He summed up his views by saying he still thought the quota law was unfair to Pulaski County and its two main cities.

No Trace of Two Women Missing

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—Exhaustive probing of the muddy waters of the West Fork River has failed to turn up any trace of two Clarksburg women missing five days.

During an unseasonable snow storm Sunday, police and volunteers dragged and poled in the water on the chance the women's car might have plunged off U.S 119 where it parallels the river south of here.

Juanita Ferguson, 50, and Virginia Conley, 54, disappeared last Wednesday while driving home from Beckley where they attended a garden club meeting.

Police say there may possibly be a connection between their disappearance and the murder of the Carroll Jackson family of Apple Grove, Va. Jackson, his wife, and two daughters were abducted while driving home Jan. 11. Their bodies were found two months later.

Unhappy Friends Portray Marriage in Black Tones

By DOROTHY DIX

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm 21 and expect to get married next year. My married friends tell me I'm in for a big letdown, that matrimonial bliss isn't so blissful. They tell me all about their fights, their difficulties with in-laws, how hard it is to manage the bills, and how they wish they were single again. Tell them that marriage is what one makes of it, that two people in love can work things out. The cynical reply is, "You'll change your mind." I'm beginning to get worried. — Estelle.

Dear Estelle: Your friends are lying in their teeth about one thing — not one of them would be single again if she had the chance. Listen to their tales of horror and pick up tips on how you can avoid trouble. In other words, profit by others mistakes. The first thing to learn is: don't knock the institution of marriage after you're in it. Complaining wives are disloyal ones. Any wife who is devoted to her husband won't grumble about him, the home he's given her, the economic status he's struggling to get out of, or his relatives. A girl with any gumption takes the bitter with the sweet and manages to combine them in a tasty dish. If your marriage has a good foundation, with two people who are determined to make a go of it, you have nothing to worry about. Let your friends air their gripes — you can't shut 'em up anyway, but resolve never to copy them. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Successful Marriage," which has further suggestions for avoiding a marital letdown.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My boy friend lives 50 miles from my home. He comes to see me quite often and has asked me to go home with him to meet his family. It would be just for the day. Do you think my mother should let me go? — C. A.

Dear C.A.: Your boy friend's mother should write your mother, asking if you could come up for a day. When everything is put on a proper basis, mom should let you make the visit.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I met Mitch last summer when I was vacationing in his hometown. We corresponded all winter, he has been to see me several times, my parents like him and we get along fine. So what's the catch? He's 25 and I'm only 16, but look and act older. My parents object to the difference in our ages but have nothing against our dating. And they really do like Mitch. This summer I'm going back to grandma's, so Mitch and I will see each other often. I admit the possibility that I'm flattered by the attention of an older man and may not be in love.—Gloria.

Dear Gloria: You are being given every opportunity to learn your true feelings for Mitch. No one is rushing you. Date Mitch, try to date boys nearer your age and, by the end of the summer, you'll know your own mind — and heart. The age difference itself is not too serious.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a freshman in high school. The boy I love doesn't go to school or work. He was expelled from high school, has a bad reputation and my principal told me I'd be expelled, too, if I'm seen with him on the school grounds. What should I do? — Arlene.

Dear Arlene: Do as your principal says. She is looking out for your best interests and is advising you to do the wise thing. Freshmen can be very foolish sometimes. There's lots for you to learn and, until you know more, be guided by your elders. Surely there are nice boys in your own class. Make friends with them.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper.

Hays Appeals for Softening of Tension

BALTIMORE (AP) — Former Rep. Brooks Hays, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, has appealed to religious groups to soften the cleavages and disharmonies" stemming from racial tension.

Hays, in an address last night before a Jewish organization, said religion and not government would create an atmosphere of compassion, love and justice needed to solve racial disputes.

A moderate in racial matters, Hays was defeated when he sought re-election to Congress from his 5th Arkansas district last November. He lost to Dr. Dale Alford, a segregationist.

Hays was presented to citation from the American Hebrew Congregations citing him "as an unrelenting one of bigotry and intolerance and champion o harmony and understanding between races."

Actor Jimmy Gleason Dies at Age of 76

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Vinegary little Jimmy Gleason, an actor for most of his 76 years, died Sunday night after an illness of almost a year.

Gleason was noted for his dour humor and his masterful double take — talents which took him from the New York stage through more than two decades of Hollywood films.

His first role was being carried onstage in a play—at 2 months of age.

His last film role was as one of Spencer Tracy's political cronies in "The Last Hurrah." Many of his films are being shown now on television, including the Joe Palooka series, in which he played a fight manager.

In addition to acting, Gleason was also a producer and the author of two plays produced in New York. His film roles include "Life of Riley," "Come Fill the Cup," "What Price Glory" and "Here Comes Mr. Jordan."

Death came at the Motion Picture Country House Hospital in nearby Woodland Hills. He entered the hospital almost a year ago, suffering from chronic asthma.

Two Burned in Van Buren Blast

VAN BURN, Ark. (AP)—Two persons burned in an explosion Mrs. Hazel Barlley, 34, and her son, Donald Ray, 12, were burned when a gallon jug of gasoline was dropped near a stove in their home Saturday and ignited, Police Chief Vol Russell said.

Damage from the ensuing fire was confined to one room of the dwelling.

White Sox Give Signs of Team With a Punch

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three days don't make a week, let alone a season but it sure looks today as if the Chicago White Sox have the two ingredients they lacked most last season. That would be home run punch and strong relief pitching.

It was this combination that helped them win their third straight Sunday, a 5-3 decision over Detroit. The home run punch was provided by rookie Norm Cash. The relief pitching was furnished by rookie Rudolf Arias and sophomore Bob Shaw. Each came in to stifle a Tiger threat with the bases loaded.

Chicago's three in a row has the club alone at the top of the American League heap. Three other teams still are undefeated. Cleveland has won two and Washington and New York one each.

The defending champion Yankees finally were able to open their season at Yankee Stadium. They just did get the game in, too. It began to snow almost immediately after they had nipped the Boston Red Sox 3-2.

None of the other teams was as fortunate. Rain forced the postponement of the scheduled double header between Baltimore and the Senators at Washington and the single contest at Kansas City between Cleveland and the Athletics. Weather cut the national league schedule in half, too. In the only games played, San Francisco made it three in a row over St. Louis, 6-3, and Los Angeles downed the Chicago Cubs 5-3. It rained in Philadelphia where the Cincinnati Reds and Phillies were to have played two games, and it snowed in Pittsburgh, postponing the Milwaukee-Pirates single contest.

Veteran catcher Sherm Lollar shared the hitting honors with first baseman Cash for the White Sox. Each drove in two runs. Cash's homer gave the White Sox six in three games. The 1958 Chicago team hit only 101 all year.

It took fine relief pitching by Arias and Shaw to keep the White Sox undefeated. Detroit loaded the bases with only one out in the seventh against starter Dick Donovan. Arias, a Cuban left-hander, came in to get cleanup batter Gail Harris on a called third strike and pinch hitter Gus Zernial on a fly to right field.

Detroit loaded the bases again in the eighth with only one out. This time Shaw took over and got Eddie Yost to ground into a double play.

Bob Turley didn't need any help from the bull pen as he spun a two-hitter to get the Yankees away winging. Pete Runnels' double in the seventh and Vic Wertz' ninth inning single were the only hits Boston was able to get as Tom Brewer lost on an eight-hitter. Norm Siebern, sporting glasses for the first time, led the Yankee attack with three hits. His home run in the eighth snapped a 2-2 tie.

Giants Use 9th Inning Wonder Boy for Victory

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The ninth inning wonders are back in business.

It was a year ago that the San Francisco Giants began an intriguing habit pulling out games in the final inning. Nearly a third of their victories were achieved thus.

The 1959 season is only in its infancy and already the Giants have won two of their three games in the closing frame.

They did it for the second time Sunday, scoring three in the ninth to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals for the third consecutive day. The score was 6-3.

Sunday's triumph moved the Giants into first place, a half game in front of the Milwaukee Braves, who won the only two games they have played. Snow prevented the Braves from playing their scheduled game in Pittsburgh.

In the only other league action, Los Angeles defeated Chicago 5-3. The scheduled doubleheader between the Cincinnati Reds and Phillies in Philadelphia was postponed because of rain.

Weather permitted only two games to be played in the American League. Chicago's White Sox made it three in a row over Detroit with a 5-3 triumph. New York's Yankees, after two postponements, finally got under way and edged the Boston Red Sox 3-2. Rain washed out the scheduled twin bill at Washington between Baltimore and the Senators, and the single game at Kansas City between Cleveland and the Athletics.

For one inning it looked like the Cardinals might finally win their first game of the season. They scored three runs in the first against left-hander Mike McCormick on hits by Don Blasingame, Gino Cimoli and Ken Boyer plus three Giant errors.

The Giants tied the score with two in the fifth after scoring one in the third. Then, in the ninth with two out, Orlando Cepeda's triple drove in Jim Davenport, who had beat out a bunt to Cardinal pitcher Vinegar Bend Mizell. Felipe Alou iced the game with a home run.

Al (Red) Worthington, with two hitless relief innings, was credited with the victory.

The Dodgers, like the Giants, also overcame a 3-0 deficit. The Cubs got to starter Sandy Koufax for four of their eight hits in the third to score all their runs.

Los Angeles got two runs back in the fourth on rookie catcher Norm Sherry's two-run single. In the seventh, outfielder Don Demeter slammed a home run with Charley Neal on base to put the Dodgers in front 4-3.

Johnny Klippstein, who permitted only one hit in three relief innings, was the winner although Clem Labine helped him with three scoreless innings.

'Wild Hogs' to Make Debut at University

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The "Wild Hogs" made their debut in University of Arkansas football today as the Razorbacks opened spring practice.

Coach Frank Broyles plans to use two alternating first units this year, coupling the "Wild Hogs" with the Razorbacks.

The innovation — patterned after Louisiana State University's "Go Team" and "Chinese Bandits" alternate squads — is expected to spur competition among candidates.

Broyles has 16 lettermen returning and a sparkling crop of sophomores, headed by prep All-American Lance Alworth, a fleet halfback.

The Arkansas mentor said that for the present he will not designate first, second, third and fourth teams although different colored jerseys will be worn in the drills.

"We'll be shifting players around day by day, experimenting," he said. "If the changes seem to help the individual, we'll leave him there. If not, then we'll move him back to his old position. There is no reason to announce those shifts until they become more permanent."

About 75 players were expected to report for practice.

The team has four weeks in which to complete 18 practice days, as allotted under Southwest Conference rules.

Drills will wind up with the Red-White games on May 2 at Little Rock and May 9 at Fayetteville.

Wife Hits Back — With a Telephone

But she didn't call anyone. She socked him with it.

Then, officers said, LaRue's sister-in-law, Mrs. J. M. Osborn, clobbered him with a mop.

After five stitches were taken in his scalp, LaRue was booked on suspicion of assault, battery and disturbing the peace Sunday. The complaint was signed by his wife, Paddie, and Mrs. Osborn.

Winners in State Relays Saturday

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Chilly weather and a windswept field failed to prevent record-breaking assaults in the ninth annual Arkansas Relays run here Saturday.

Fordyce, Conway and Texarkana won divisional honors.

Bobby Jones of Marianna stepped the 180-yard low hurdles in 21 seconds flat and Jim Cobb of McGehee ran a 4:37.1 mile in two of the best performances of the meet.

Donnie Ketchside of Russellville hurled the discuss 152 feet, 8½ inches for the best toss of the year in the AA division.

Fordyce, winner in the A-B division with 60 points, set records in eight events. One mark was tied.

Conway captured AA honors with 53 points and Texarkana easily won AAA laurels with 70.

Three records were broken and one tied in AA competition but marks in the AAA division stood. The 10-15 mile an hour wind hampered sprint performances.

50,000 Attend Graham Service

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — An estimated 50,000 persons attended the opening of Billy Graham's crusade Sunday.

Hundreds waited several hours for the gates to the city show ground to open. Thousands of automobiles and some 100 special buses created one of the largest traffic jams Sydney has experienced.

An official said 3,036 persons made "Decisions for Christ."

The Rt. Rev. Ronald Kerle, coadjutor Anglican bishop of Sydney, said Australia's Christian churches never had such unity as under the crusade's banner.

MACE IN SILK—A parachute recovery system has been developed for the Air Force's Mace, a surface-to-surface guided missile. Top to bottom, three parachutes pop out at end of flight, rubber landing gear inflates and Mace floats gently to earth. Re-use of the missile allows more intensive training of launch crew at decreased cost.

Nat'l Library Week to Be Observed

The Second National Library Week will be celebrated throughout the United States April 12-18. This national program is sponsored by the National Book Committee in cooperation with the American Library Association.

The theme for the week is 'Wake Up and Read for a Better-Read, Better-Informed America.'

The objective of the week is to remind the American people that reading can help them to explore and satisfy their need for a greater sense of purpose and meaning in their lives; to urge them to use fully the libraries of all kinds in which the treasures of the printed word awaits throughout the land.

National Library Week will focus wide spread attention on reading and on the importance of libraries of all kinds from the bookshelves in your home to the vast collection in public and university libraries.

Ewing Pyeatt of Searcy is chairman of the Arkansas Citizen's Committee for National Library Week. He has many outstanding leaders in Arkansas on his committee and all these people are interested in promotion of better libraries and more and better reading for every citizen in Arkansas.

Murphy Co. Buys Variety Store Chain

Through a cash transaction, Morgan & Lindsey, Inc., a variety store chain, became a subsidiary of G. C. Murphy Company, according to an announcement by W. C. Shaw, Chairman of the Board, and J. S. Mack, President of the Murphy Company, and C. V. Lindsey, Chairman of the Board, and E. E. Latham, President of Morgan & Lindsey. The firm operates a store in Hope.

Morgan & Lindsey has progressed steadily since its founding in 1921. The company was incorporated in 1946, when it had grown to 60 stores, and continued its progressive expansion into its present operation of 92 units, with 7 additional stores under lease or construction. The stores are concentrated in Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas, with a merchandise warehouse in Monroe, Louisiana, and the Home Office in Jasper, Texas.

In commenting on the sale, Mr. C. V. Lindsey, Chairman of the Board and one of the founders of Morgan & Lindsey, described the transaction as "a splendid opportunity for our organization to progress at an even faster pace."

Alligator Blows Duck Call for Hope Man

WARRIOR BASIN
by LESLIE ERNENWEIN

THE STORY: Grace Kimble, the girl Jim Furlong has been courting, refuses to help him celebrate his birthday after she hears Jim has been fighting. She believes he should have turned the other cheek.

Soon after sunup, with Bonanza leading the sorrel, to whose tail the black's lead rope was tied, Furlong watched his worldly good depart.

Furlong strapped on his bulging saddlebags and tied a blanket roll about them, checked the loads in his rifle and shoved it into saddle scabbard. Then he mounted, took a final look at his cabin and rode slowly from the yard.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Clee Veto led five Empire riders through a pass which opened onto a broad slope some three miles southwest of Furlong's homestead. Here Veto halted, tilting forward in saddle he gave the place a thorough scrutiny. His companions, known throughout Warrior Basin as "the headquarters crew."

The men on either side of Veto had rifles cradled across their left arms. "Furlong may be gone," he said. "But he might not be. In which case we'll have a fight on our hands."

"You hoping he's there, Clee" Joe Fenton inquired slyly, having heard that Furlong had pistol whipped Veto.

"That's no concern of yours," Veto said sharply.

Presently, as they passed the buckskin mare which had shaded up with her colt under a live oak, Veto detoured briefly for a look at her brand.

The six riders converged upon the cabin, Farley Breen called, "Fresh pony tracks, heading up that ridge yonderly."

Veto gave the ridge a calculating appraisal. "Too far for accurate shooting," he said, "unless Furlong has a real reachy gun."

He waited out a long moment of silence, then said, "Breen, open the door."

The big rider obeyed, keeping warily to one side of the door as he opened it, and at this instant a gun exploded inside the cabin. The bullet, grazing Breen's shirt sleeve, struck Veto's pony. The animal sank back on its haunches, took a floundering step sideways and went down as Veto kicked free of the stirrups.

Ducking along the log wall, Breen slanted bullets into the doorway. Veto ran toward the cabin, coming up near an end window and firing into it and shouting, "Take the back — take the back!"

In a matter of moments Veto glanced through a window and saw the pistol strapped to a bunk post. A long piece of twine ran from the door latch, around a table leg and then to the pistol's trigger.

Farley Breen rushed into the cabin, gun in hand. He peered at the twin-rigged weapon strapped to the bunk post and asked: "Ain't that your pistol, Clee"

"Yes," Veto said. "Yes it is."

Then, as if recovering from a discovery that had been briefly disconcerting, he commanded: "Breen, make some shavings and get a fire started. Dale, go get me that buckskin mare."

Watching the fire, Jim Furlong understood that a burned cabin involved more than the work that had gone into building it. It was the wanton destruction of what a cabin stood for; shelter and sustenance; it was mockery of a man's ambition to establish himself in a location of his own choosing. And now, he understood why so many men had bowed to the will of Jules Pardee. Being burned out was bad enough for a bachelor, but for a family man it could be an overwhelming tragedy.

Presently Furlong saw a rider lead his buckskin mare into the yard with the colt fiddlefooting along beside its mother. In the few moments it took to transfer a saddle from the dead horse to the mare, his cabin became wholly enveloped in flames.

Furlong turned his horse and rode slowly down the west side of the ridge. He said whisperingly, "My turn tomorrow."

Sheriff Sid Link was standing in the doorway of his office when he saw the stranger ride up to Belmont's Saloon and dismount. Something about the man's face seemed familiar to Link; he watched the man tie his horse at the hitchrack, noting that he was of medium build, 45 or 50 years old, and dark complexioned. Link went to his desk and began sifting through an accumulation of "wanted" notices. He was still at it when Buchanan Fyfe, publisher of the Junction Clarion, came into the office.

Buchanan Fyfe said: "Look at me," and when Link looked, Fyfe asked urgently, "What do you see"

"You, of course — a middle-aged dude with a fancy mustache on what might be called a scholarly face, and wearing a pink posie in his lapel."

Fyfe shook his head. "Isn't there a look of manish pride in my eyes" he asked hopefully.

"What've you got to be proud about"

"Ah, Sidney, the very essence of pride, the fountainhead of pride — intellectual freedom. I am now, as of this moment, a free man. For the first time since the death of my beloved wife, since her long illness began, in fact, I owe no bills. Doctor, undertaker, grocer, all paid in full. I've taken three years to accomplish this. Years of compromise and expediency, during which my editor's soul has shriveled until there was no pride in me. But now I'm free of Jules Pardee."

Woman Ends Testimony in Murder Trial

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Connie Nicholas completed her murder trial testimony in tears today, telling the jury her playboy lover was killed as she drew her small revolver to shoot herself.

After the state wound up its cross-examination in only 16 minutes, defense attorney Charles W. Symmes got the divorcee to pin down the motion she said she made with her gun in Forrest Teel's white car.

"Toward myself," she replied. "I told him I wouldn't be around to bother him any more. I wanted to scare him—the fact that I was going to kill myself in his car."

"Were you afraid of further beatings?" Symmes asked.

"I was afraid because he had struck me and had thrown me across the seat of the car."

Dep. Prosecutor Francis E. Thomason came back for one last question on cross-examination:

"Was this the first time he had beaten you?"

"Yes."

Mrs. Nicholas wept as the jury filed out for a recess at the end of her testimony.

"It's been an ordeal," she said as she returned to the defense counsel's table.

"I've got a cold, she explained, "something I seldom have. My throat is very sore."

She appeared in a yellow suit and the black velvet hat which she had worn at the start of the trial four weeks ago.

Mrs. Nicholas, who turned 45 Sunday, testified she weighs 105 pounds and measures 5 feet 1 "if I stretch a little."

Plans for the buildings, which will cost a total of some $300,000, were okayed yesterday by the State Lions Committee on Sight Conservation and Work With the Blind and the Executive Board of the Arkansas Enterprises for the Blind.

At a meeting, the groups announced that final approval of plans for the three buildings will be sought from the state Lions Club convention at Hot Springs May 4.

Two of the proposed buildings, dormitories for women and men, would increase the center's housing capacity from 20 to 40. The third projected building would house administrative offices and a combined auditorium-gymnasium.

If the state convention approves the project it is expected that construction could begin this summer.

Student Government President Named

Other new officers are Dick Norton of Ouachita Baptist College, vice president and Bert Wright of Arkansas State, secretary-treasurer.

About 45 delegates from 12 colleges and the University of Arkansas attended the meeting.
